Understand the application before you commit to change

Harten provides specialist consultancy, supported by Wayfinder, to help organisations understand complex applications before they commit to modernisation.

- Application evidence
- Reviewable specification
- Modernisation planning

When the application is unclear, every option becomes harder to price and deliver

01 Retain

Opaque dependencies slow change and increase operational drag.

02 Migrate

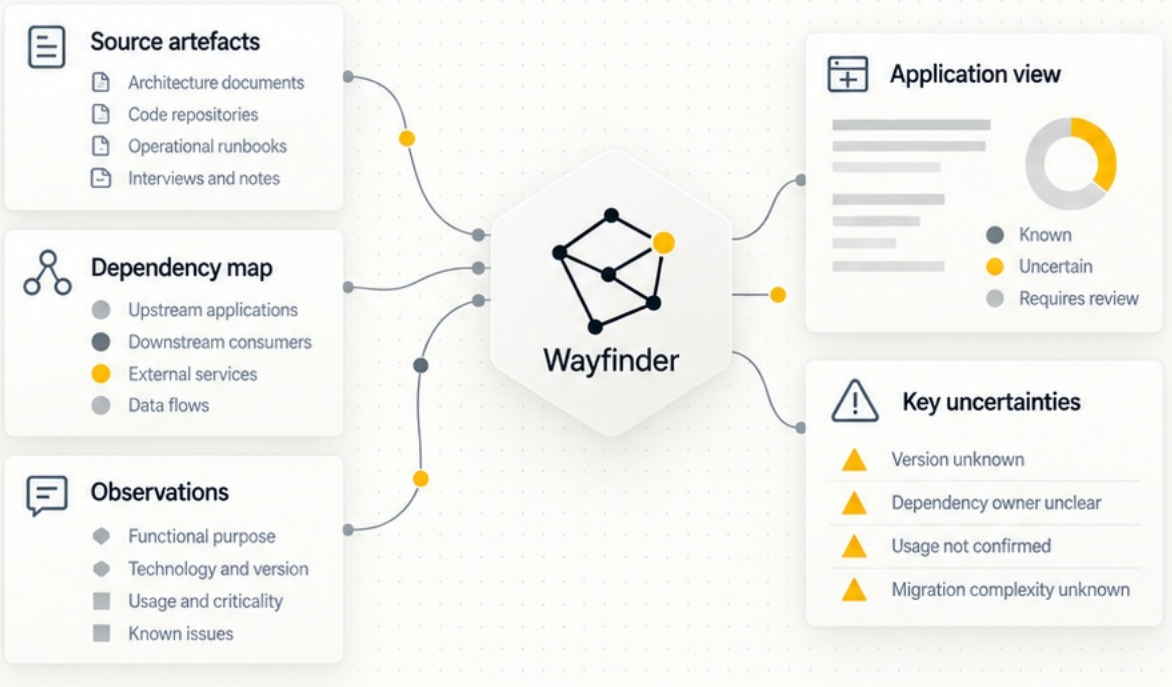

Hidden behaviour and incomplete evidence increase delivery risk.

03 Commit

Uncertainty gets priced into programmes before value is realised.

Harten works upstream of major delivery commitments, helping teams establish a reviewable basis for change.

Show what is known, what remains uncertain and what still needs review

Useful
Decision-grade baseline

Wayfinder assembles application evidence so decision-makers can see what is known, what remains uncertain and what needs review.

Review important findings against the evidence before they become decisions

Human review at material gates

Transparency

Gaps remain visible

Harten keeps judgement explicit. Outputs are intended to support reviewable decisions, not hide uncertainty behind automation.

Turn source analysis into a specification people can inspect and challenge

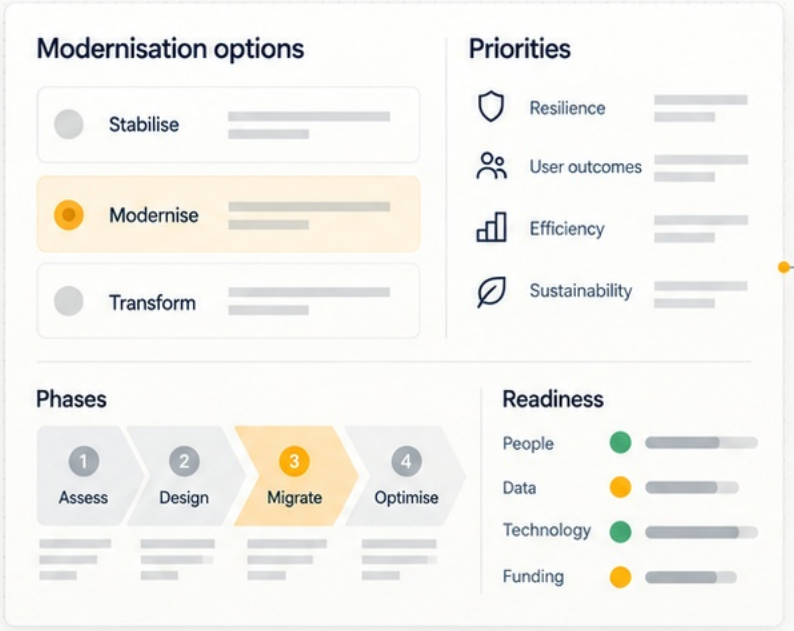

The specification shows

- Observed behaviour
- Business rules
- Dependencies
- Open questions
- Supporting evidence

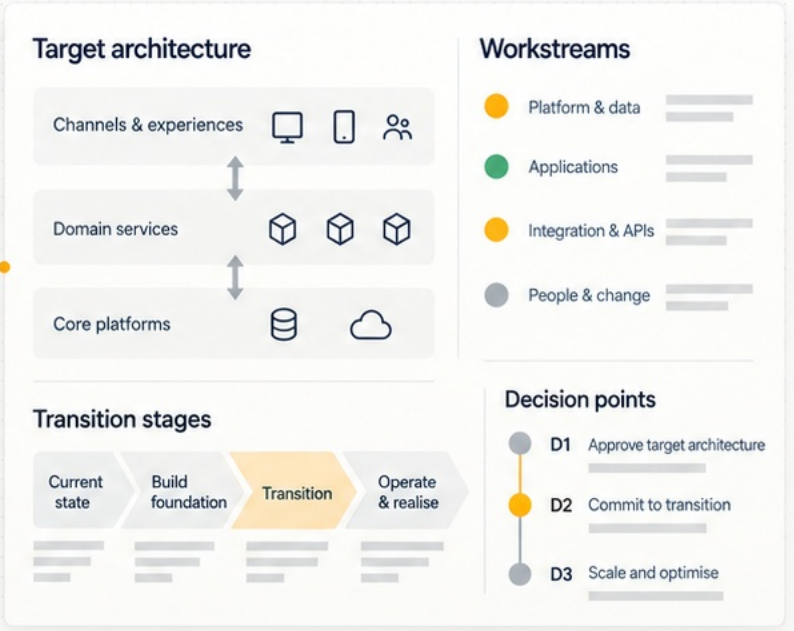

Wayfinder helps turn source analysis into a reviewable current-system specification that can be discussed, challenged and used in planning.

Use the reviewed specification to shape the target and the transition

MODERNISATION PLAN OVERVIEW

Wayfinder

TARGET ARCHITECTURE AND DELIVERY SHAPE

The reviewed evidence carries forward into target architecture, transition planning and explicit decision points.

Wayfinder keeps evidence, specifications and planning connected

Connected through Wayfinder

- Application evidence
- Specifications
- Planning
- Platform services

Wayfinder gives teams one connected view of what is understood, what is being reviewed and what planning work is ready to move forward.

Start with one application

01

Select

Choose one critical application or a clearly bounded estate area.

02

Establish

Produce application evidence, a reviewable specification and a proposed plan.

03

Decide

Use the outputs to agree the next change decision with greater confidence.
